

$70,500 OFFERED FOR BOMB SOLUTION

Probe of Wall Street Tragedy Simulated by Additional Reward Promised.

NEW YORK, Nov. 24.—A sum of $70,500 awaits the person who can solve the Wall Street bomb explosion mystery that took the lives of two score people September 16.

In addition to these sums previously offered, William J. Burns' international detective agency today advertised it would pay $50,000 for information leading to the conviction of persons responsible for the disaster. Thus, official investigation into the explosion having proven fruitless, hope of solving the mystery has been based on the huge reward offered tempting some one involved "to squeal."

The advertisement stated any information given would be held in strict confidence. It was said the Burns agency was acting in behalf of Wall Street interests.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE INDORSES D. C. VOTE

Suffrage Committee Voices Optimism Over Representation.

National representation for the District in Congress was approved yesterday in a resolution adopted by the suffrage committee of the Washington Chamber of Commerce, in a meeting in the organization's headquarters.

Members of the committee voiced optimism over the prospects of "concentrating organized community effort upon the constitutional amendment to secure District national representation." A report, similar to the one agreed to yesterday by the committee was adopted shortly after the suffrage committee was appointed in 1914.

CHILD KILLED BY AUTO.

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Nov. 24.—Benjamin Ogle, five years old, received injuries when hit by an automobile yesterday afternoon from which he died this morning. He was the son of S. Maurice Ogle, formerly of Prince Georges county, one of the clerks in the office of the court of appeals.

SMITH NAMED CHAIRMAN.

Odel S. Smith was yesterday named chairman of the public order committee of the Board of Trade, and Charles J. Waters was appointed head of the membership committee by Thomas Bradley, newly elected president of the organization. The public order committee will meet Monday night in the Arlington Hotel.

Another Boy Bitten by Dog; Eleventh Here in Last 4 Weeks

While playing in front of the Walter Reed Hospital last night, Vernon Walker, seven years old, 1307 Dogwood street, was bitten by a dog on the left hand. The police are trying to locate the owner of the animal.

The boy is the eleventh victim of dog bites in Washington in the last four weeks.

They have become experts at tennis and golf, they have learned to walk miles without fatigue and have rejoiced in the straight-line silhouette. Physicians have sounded its praises and health and good complexions have been their portion. Surrender all this lightly? Never.

"What's the use of the Nineteenth Amendment if they are going to spring things like this on us?" exclaimed a debutante yesterday. "Painting and wasp-like waists may have been very well sixty years ago, but now, debutantes then didn't have to go to six dances a week, with a couple of the dandies and about five luncheons and a tea thrown in. No girl could stand that with an eighteen-inch waist."

Apprentice allowance claimed. Weather clear; track good.

DEMSEY'S SISTER ALSO A FIGHTER, SPOUSE SAYS

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, Nov. 24.—"My wife is the sister of Jack Dempsey, heavyweight champion of the world, and she can't forget she has fighting blood in her veins," declared William Barrow, twenty-four years old, during today's session in police court here, where he was arraigned for battery.

"Every married couple today is fighting," he said.

"Do you mean to say your attorney, the prosecuting attorney, and even the court, fight with their respective wives?" inquired the judge.

"My statement stands," replied Barrow. "Unrest has crept into the home. But—when a fellow marries a champion's sister, the battle starts and nobody, sounds the gong ending the rounds."

Barrow was turned loose, as his wife declined to appear against him.

TALKS ON BIRD LIFE.

Habits of birds were explained to members of the Audubon Society last night by Dr. T. S. Palmer, member of the Biological Survey. The meeting was held in Congressional Library. Photographs representing the work of fifty artists and photographers were used to illustrate the lecture.

Slim Waists, Exposed Ears? Nix! Say Women

BALTIMORE, Nov. 24.—A new revolution has broken out. It is "manned" by women—women of all shades of political opinion, women tall and women short, blondes, brunettes and women with henna hair. They are ready to do battle with the cohorts of hairdressers and costumers who have decreed "Ears and an 18-inch waist."

The trouble began in London a few weeks ago, when a corsetiere viewed with dismay the increasing number of women who patterned their waist line after that of the Venus de Milo, with a corresponding decrease in his business. The next day there appeared in the London Times a two-line advertisement:

All persons interested in the revival of the well-corseted figure will please communicate with X, 2324, Times.

The response was immediate and overwhelming. All members of the advertiser's guild saw the light, and the communications with X, 2324, Times, overwhelmed the British postman to whose lot they fell. A conference followed and those present were given to understand that their duty was plain—the 18-inch waist must return.

PARIS FOLLOWS SUIT.

Paris, which usually originates the mode, was quick to see the possibilities in the new movement and immediately took up the challenge, repeated it and passed it on to Am. rick. The famous dressmakers all are enlisted and are featuring hips as never before.

With such possibilities the hairdressers could not resist taking a hand. "What more incongruous," they exclaimed, "than the huge rolls of hair which conceal woman's ears? Plainly, the ear must go and ears must be worn again."

So is the scene laid and Baltimore women are up in arms. Too long, they declare, have they known the joys of the freedom of movement to surrender without a struggle. They have become experts at tennis and golf, they have learned to walk miles without fatigue and have rejoiced in the straight-line silhouette. Physicians have sounded its praises and health and good complexions have been their portion. Surrender all this lightly? Never.

"What's the use of the Nineteenth Amendment if they are going to spring things like this on us?" exclaimed a debutante yesterday. "Painting and wasp-like waists may have been very well sixty years ago, but now, debutantes then didn't have to go to six dances a week, with a couple of the dandies and about five luncheons and a tea thrown in. No girl could stand that with an eighteen-inch waist."

SALSWOMAN SPEAKS UP.

Just as emphatic was a saleswoman in one of the downtown department stores.

"Whoever started that didn't have to stand eight hours a day and wait a mile and a half to and from work," she declared.

The situation in regard to ears is almost as tense. Ever since the time several years ago, when a popular illustrator declared should be suppressed, the feminine world has endeavored to conceal them. And now unfeeling hair-dressers would destroy in a night the work of years. Never! the women say.

LINCOLN PARK CITIZENS PROTEST PRICE OF GAS

The Lincoln Park Citizens' Association last night went on record as opposing the present cost of gas to private consumers. A resolution adopted pointed out that the Federal Government pays 70 cents and the District government less than 40 cents, while the private consumer pays $1.32.

The following officers were re-elected: President, George H. Judd; vice president, Mrs. Helen Nelson Dooley; secretary, John W. Johnson, and treasurer, Frederick Muller.

BARBERS

They "Peg" Your Disposition as Soon as You Light.

ACTIONS A GIVE-AWAY

Reveal Whether You Are Cranky, Good Natured or Sporty.

Want to know your disposition? Ask George Cousins, barber. Get into his chair—he'll get your number.

"Easy," says George. "The crank throws himself into the chair; the good-natured guy is deliberate; the sporty gent balances himself on its edge before getting into position."

"Any other way?"

"Sure," replied George. "After we shave one side of the face, we turn the head. The crank comes around with a snap, the good-natured fellow with a smile, the sporty boy with his eyes trying to take in the whole shop."

"What more?"

"The way they look at the ceiling," said George. "The crank tries to scowl and gets the lather into his eyes; the good-natured fellow talks about his kids; the sporty one tries to tell you the kind of pictures that should adorn the blank spaces."

"What else?"

"Say," replied George, "what kind of a guy are you? You have all the faults of the bunch, but none of their virtues."

SAYS WORLD HOPE LIES IN BRITAIN AND IN U. S.

Lord Bryce Says America Is Raised Above Europe.

BOSTON, Nov. 24.—James Bryce, former British ambassador to the United States, pictured the world at "the abyss of calamity into which the war has plunged it," in a letter to the Colonial Society, of this city, made public yesterday.

The American and English peoples, he said, are specially called to try and rescue the world from the danger. He added that America's influence is prized because "she is impartial, raised above the jealousies and ambitions that vex this distracted Europe."

Lord Bryce wrote to express regret at his inability to attend the annual meeting of the society, which this year celebrated the tercentenary of the landing of the Pilgrims.

JUGO-SLAV MINISTER OUT.

BELGRADE, Jugo-Slavia, Nov. 24.—Anton Trumbitch resigned the ministry of foreign affairs yesterday. He will be succeeded by Dr. Mijenko R. Vesitch, former Jugo-Slav minister to France.

OGLES OWN WIFE; FINDS IT COSTLY

Woman He Left Fourteen Years Ago Hales Him to Court Must Pay $10 Week.

NEW YORK, Nov. 24.—Flirting with your wife, particularly after a lapse of fourteen years, is not always the harmless diversion it is cracked up to be.

An innocent flirtation in an elevated train with a comely woman, who afterward turned out to be his wife, is now costing Douglass Cruikshank $10 a week, and will continue to cost him the sum for the rest of his life.

Father Time has a way of working miraculous changes in a woman's appearance, and Mr. Cruikshank had no notion that the rather plump and middle-aged woman sitting directly opposite, toward whom his eyes were irresistibly drawn, bore any relation to a slim little figure in white lawn he had married years ago.

The moment Mr. Cruikshank sat opposite her, Mrs. Cruikshank knew him and she encouraged him in his ogling. He ogled. She ogled back.

A sudden impulse to reveal herself she suppressed and when finally Mr. Cruikshank got out at the 104th street station, Manhattan, Mrs. Cruikshank decided to follow him.

Next morning she followed him to business. On the same evening Mrs. Cruikshank rang her husband's door bell.

"Mr. Cruikshank hasn't seen his family in years," the landlady volunteered.

"Well I guess he'll be happy to see me," Mrs. Cruikshank said. "I'm his cousin."

Once across the threshold, Mrs. Cruikshank stated, her role of ingenuit vanished.

"Now Mr. Cruikshank, do you realize who I am?" Mrs. Cruikshank said. "I am the woman you flirted with in the train. I am your wife."

Mr. Cruikshank's pleasure at this unique meeting was somewhat marred when Mrs. Cruikshank drew forth a warrant from the domestic relations court which she had been renewing for years.

Later, in court, Judge Dooley learned that in the last fourteen years Mr. Cruikshank had contributed only $20 toward the support of his wife and child.

U. S. NOTE ON ORE PACT DELIVERED TO BRITAIN

LONDON, Nov. 24.—The American note with regard to the Anglo-French oil agreement (dealing with the respective rights of the two nations as to oil supplies in parts of the former Turkish empire) has been delivered by the American embassy to the British foreign office.

The document is being considered by the foreign office today.

THE MAN WITH VIGOR A WINNER

No Wonder Some Folks Have a Hard Time Jetting Ahead

IT TAKES RED BLOOD TO SUCCEED

Pepto-Mangan Restores Vigor A Really Wonder of Tonic Purifies and Tones Up the Blood

It takes vitality to succeed because success requires hard work. Some days you get along all right. Other times you have to strain and you over-exert yourself. When that happens, your system is overtaxed. It shows first in the blood. The over-exertion causes an increase in waste matter. The blood struggles to take care of it all. Gradually the poisons in the waste increase too fast for the blood. Then the blood becomes clogged.

First thing you know you feel all tired out. Sleep does you little good. You can't eat well. You wonder what the trouble is.

Then is the time to get some Pepto-Mangan, the blood building tonic. Take it for awhile till your blood is cleared up. You'll soon have plenty of rich red blood. Notice the difference in your work. Your old-time energy returns. You win out because you are stronger.

Pepto-Mangan is sold in both liquid and tablet form. The tablets have the same medicinal value as the liquid. Take either kind you prefer. But be sure you get the genuine Pepto-Mangan—Trade Mark. The full name, "Genuine Pepto-Mangan," should be on the package.
